THE SURVEY ASSOCIATION
ASSOCIATE

Grantham Coates Surveys is proud to announce that as of last week we are now associate member of The Survey Association. More commonly known as TSA, the association was formed in 1979 to represent the views and business concerns of the private surveying companies in the United Kingdom. After three years of trading we will automatically become full members.

Before a member is admitted they are visited and scrutinised by TSA's Secretary General to ensure their premises, people, systems, procedures, health and safety and quality is up to the required standard. Work samples are also scrutinised by members of TSA Council who are themselves actively engaged in practising survey companies. TSA therefore expects every member to meet its very high standards and maintain this throughout membership to give you confidence in the survey product or advice you purchase.

Finally a beautiful summers day!

At last, after an appalling summer, we have had a beautiful days surveying on the River Don. Survey was part of a series of surveys to enable design of scour protection on some of the countries at risk railway bridges. So far this month we have carried out 3 basic scour protection surveys and 2 detailed, a further detailed to start next Monday.

On way to establish control above the viaduct.

Busy July Ahead!

Its only the 4th July and we are already booked up until pretty much the end of the month! For the most part we will be carrying out a series of scour protection surveys on railway bridges across the north of England. We have recently invested in RXS River Cross Section software from Survey MBS. This will enable us to provide cross sections in a variety of formats including Isis, Hec-Ras, xyz and the new Environment Agency specific format.

In addition to the river scour work we have a return visit to a research facility to provide additional topographic survey information.

Our heavy workload means that unfortunately we will be unable to attend this years Leica HDS Symposium at Blenheim palace. A great shame as we were looking forward to it.

Tales from the river bank to come in the next couple of weeks.
